NAMING OF PRESIDENT DELAYED TO SEPTEMBER

Appointment of the second president for Cal State, San Bernardino has been postponed until the Sept. 14-15 meeting of the CSU Board of Trustees. The campus had originally expected a decision this past Monday, but that trustee meeting was cancelled because developments at the end of last week reduced the number of finalists recommended by the committee to below the minimum number specified in the Board of Trustees procedures for filling presidential vacancies, according to a statement from Lynne Myers, chair of the Presidential Selection Advisory Committee. The PSAC will therefore continue its review and screening process and will report to the trustees with recommendations at the Sept. 14-15 meeting.

Three finalists, all vice presidents, visited the campus. Dr. Joseph Olander from the University of Texas, El Paso, withdrew shortly after his visit here on June 29. Dr. David G. Brown of Miami University in Ohio and Dr. Judith A. Sturnick from Southwest State University in Marshall, Minn., visited July 6-7. Dr. Brown withdrew from the race but asked to be reinstated.

DR. SCHERBA TODAY NAMED VICE PRESIDENT IN CHARGE

Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke today designated Dr. Gerald M. Scherba to become vice president in charge of Cal State, San Bernardino upon the retirement of President John M. Pfau this month.

Dr. Scherba, now vice president for academic affairs, joined the Cal State planning staff in 1962 as chairman of the Natural Sciences Division (the forerunner of the School of Natural Sciences). He became dean of academic affairs in 1966 and was named vice president in 1968.

Prior to coming to the new San Bernardino campus, Dr. Scherba was associate professor of biology at Cal State, Chico. He holds B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. degrees in zoology from the University of Chicago. He has written about 12 scientific articles concerning the biology of social insects and is co-author of a high school text.

According to the chancellor's announcement at the Board of Trustees meeting this afternoon, Dr. Scherba will continue as vice president in charge pending the board's decision on a new permanent president.

COFFEE TO HONOR PRESIDENT PFAU JULY 23

An informal coffee honoring President Pfau will be held from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, Friday, July 23 in the lobby of the Administration Building. Everyone on campus that day is invited to stop by to greet the president. July 23 will be his last day on campus as president.

CAMPUS AWARDED MACHINE THAT READS FOR BLIND

Cal State, San Bernardino has been awarded a reading machine that converts printed material into high quality English speech for the visually impaired. The machine, which retails at $29,800, was manufactured by Kurzweil Computer Products, a Xerox company. The Xerox Corp. awarded 200 machines nationwide in this grant process.

The reading machine is expected to be installed sometime between Oct. 1 and Dec. 31 in the Learning Center. It has the capacity to read most type faces and sizes. Through push-button controls, users can command this compact machine to speed up or slow down the reading rate, adjust the tonality of the voice, repeat lines or words, spell out words which may be obscure, announce punctuation and capitalization, and mark certain words or phrases for later reference.

Dr. Theron Pace (Services to Students with Disabilities) wrote the grant proposal. He is interested in talking with individuals on campus and in the community-at-large about possibilities for the broadest use of this resource.

REGISTRATION TAKEN FOR POST SESSION

Registration for the post session of summer classes is being taken through Thursday, July 29, at the Office of Continuing Education, LC 500. Classes begin Monday, Aug. 2 and end Friday, Aug. 20. A total of five units may be taken during the post session. Fifteen five- and 2.5-unit morning, afternoon and evening classes are offered.

The summer session is $34 per unit, plus an additional $11 in student services fees. A late registration fee of $20 will be charged for persons registering after July 29.

SUMMER WORKSHOPS FOR FRESHMEN PREPARATION

The Learning Center is conducting a series of workshops this summer for students planning to enroll in the college as freshmen in the fall. These free, non-credit workshops, taught from 9-11 a.m., are:

Study skills, Aug. 2-6 and 9-10; writing awareness and improvement, Aug. 11-13 and 16-20; term paper, Aug. 23-27. Students may register for one or more workshops by calling the Learning Center, Ext. 7612. All workshops will be held in LC 37.
